the book explores a variety of problems connected to philosophy and philosophy of law it discusses the problem of monism pluralism in philosophy and philosophy of law criticizes philosophy of post positivism and postmodernism and investigates dialectics as a universal global methodological basis of scientific cognition and philosophy of law the volume also pays particular attention to contemporary legal education offering potential solutions to problems in this field the book is the result of a range of sociological studies conducted both in russia and abroad concerning the legal process and legal consciousness in recent years there have been a number of concerns about the recognition of religious laws and the existence of religious courts and tribunals there has also been the growing literature on legal pluralism which seeks to understand how more than one legal system can and should exist within one social space however whilst a number of important theoretical works concerning legal pluralism in the context of cultural rights have been published little has been published specifically on religion religion and legal pluralism explores the extent to which religious laws are already recognised by the state and the extent to which religious legal systems such as sharia law should be accommodated
